biography

You can forget what you've heard about any of these trendy new guitarist / drummer duos such as The White Stripes, The Raveonettes and The Black Keys. That's because there's a new twosome in town known as The Karlz. And these two veteran musicians are guaranteed to raise the roof off your club or next event.

The Karlz consist of vocalist/guitarist Todd Bowie and drummer Doug Corella. One of the duo's primary goals is not to win anyone over with their own material (which they certainly have plenty of), but rather instead to play rousing, energetic cover versions of songs both old and new that appeal to a vast audience.

Between the two they've toured around the world with the likes of The Eagles, Fleetwood Mac, Beck, The Flaming Lips and the Verve Pipe.

Whether you're looking for a band that can nail the funk from the '70s, playfully toy with disco, toss in an occasional hard rocker or party like its 1999, The Karlz are the band that will get your audience on their feet and shakin' their money makers.

Drawing on a four-decade catalog of Top 40 hits, The Karlz are as comfortable playing The Beatles, Bee Gees, or INXS as they are Beck or Outkast. Depending on the age and demographic of their audience, the two astute musicians are capable of shifting gears to create the perfect set list for their audience.
